Environmental Impact in Rural Areas in Europe:

Exceptionally important, one-of-a-kind research report and analysis of fundamental aspects and regional issues concerning the development of European rural areas, especially the rapid changes taking place in European agriculture. The book contains fourteen chapters covering land-use and general environmental problems in Portugal, France, UK, Estonia, Poland, Russia and Ukraine, including a chapter on changes in natural landscapes and land use following the Chernobyl accident. Includes bibliographic references and index.
