It is a THICK book, but again, what law book isn't? Overall, very satisfied.1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Five StarsBy Serena NguyenCame on time and brand new.

National Security Law, Fifth Edition, provides the broadest exploration of both constitutional and domestic law issues in National Security of any book in the field. This highly respected team of authors uses expressive and descriptive text to provide context and informative historical and background information as well as thoughtful treatment of related international law topics. The Fifth edition features the most recent and important cases as well as excerpts from significant reports and other materials. This book has been adopted for classroom use at a majority of American law schools, as well as military academies and schools, and non-law graduate programs. Among the features that have made this text the preeminent casebook in the field: Cohesive thematic framework--examines law and process for using U.S. force abroad, intelligence gathering, counterterrorism, homeland security and related civil liberties concerns, and access to sensitive government information in a democracy. Rich, well-balanced primary materials--including judicial opinions, executive orders, executive branch legal memoranda, statutes, and legislative history. Currency and comprehensive coverage--addresses the very latest developments in the detention and trial of terrorist suspects, interrogation, targeted killings, domestic intelligence collection, protection of government secrets, and related issues. Topics are organized into numerous shorter chapters, to reflect the way professors actually use the materials in the classroom. Annual Supplements--containing the latest developments in this very dynamic field. New to the Fifth Edition: Important recent cases, such as Doe v. Holder, Al-Kidd v. Ashcroft, Al-Bihani v. Obama, Arar v. Ashcroft, El-Shifa Pharmaceutical Industries Co. v. United States, Mohamed v. Jeppesen Dataplan, Inc., In re Directives [Redacted Text], and Holder v. Humanitarian Law Project Excerpts from significant reports and materials National Security Strategy, May 2010 Letter from the President Regarding the War Powers Report, December 16, 2009 The Obama Administration and International Law, by Harold Hongju Koh (Remarks on targeted killings) Final Report: Guantanamo Review Task Force, January 22, 2010 Military Commissions Act of 2009 New Obama executive order on classification Attorney General Memo re Policies and Procedures Governing Invocation of the State Secrets Privilege, September 23, 2009
