If you're considering buying one of the two, in my opinion this is definitely the one you should go for. It is far more complete, dealing with issues that its competition doesn't discuss, and is much less tenant-oriented.4 of 4 people found the following review helpful. THE best practitioners manual for landlord/tenant law in OHBy KevinAs a Legal Aid Attorney, I am frequently assigned landlord/tenant cases to either negotiate or litigate on behalf of tenants. I consider Peter's book on the subject my bible, and it is an indispensible part of the desk copies that I have. If you are an attorney litigating this subject matter in Ohio, and do not have a copy of Peter's book available as a reference, you are undoubtedly unprepared.2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Very Helpful!By MSWAs a Property Manager, this book has been very helpful in deciding what legally we are allowed to do and what we are not allowed to do when it comes to problem tenants. I would recommend this book to any other small property management company.

Ohio Eviction and Landlord-Tenant Law (3d ed.) is a practitioner's manual, principally for attorneys and other advocates who represent or counsel tenants or landlords, and for judges and magistrates who hear eviction actions or other residential landlord-tenant cases. It is, of course, a manual for tenants and landlords as well. The book surveys and analyzes the Ohio statutes and caselaw on eviction actions, residential tenancies, manufactured home parks, and land installment contracts. It also surveys and analyzes the federal regulations and Ohio caselaw on HUD-assisted rental housing programs, relative to an eviction action or a termination of a family's participation in the section 8 voucher program. These surveys and analyses address procedure and practice issues, as well as potential claims, defenses, and remedies. The third edition contains 528 pages of text, plus a table of cases (86 pages and 1,996 cases) and a detailed index (42 pages). The author, Peter M. Iskin, is a 1973 graduate of the University of Pennsylvania School of Law. He is the Director of the Law Reform Unit of The Legal Aid Society of Cleveland and is the foremost authority on Ohio eviction and landlord-tenant law.
