Rachel Bratt : Rebuilding Low Income Housing before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Rebuilding Low Income Housing:

Proposes a different strategy for producing decent, affordable housing for low-income people through non-profit community-based organizations. This book analyzes the limitations of both profit-oriented developers and public agencies as the primary vehicles for developing low- and middle-income housing.

"A useful resource for planners and activists working on housing development. It provides a wealth of information about the positive and negative outcomes of various federal and local initiatives." International Journal of Urban and Regional Research
